One of the best feelings ever is having a great hair day. Often, that awesome sensation comes with a price tag of a professional blowout — but that doesn't always have to be the case. A shiny, bouncy, look-at-me blowout can be achieved at home without the salon fuss. Seriously, we're always looking for ways to perfect the art of a perfect blowout.

The best blow dryers are easy to use, work fast and fight frizz, so that hair can be left feeling soft, healthy and looking its best. With so many options in different price ranges, we figured we'd give you a leg up on your shopping research to see which dryer fits your hair type, budget and lifestyle. Check out our picks for the seven best hair dryers in the slideshow below.
